Dear Mr Forbes

Re: Law Society of NSW - covering up of criminal conduct

You have not responded to my letter of 19th July 2022. Clearly, you have no intention of doing so.

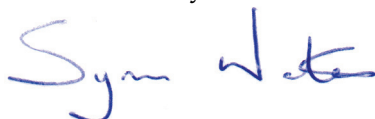

As you are quite aware, Baker McKenzie wrote to me on 2nd December 2021 making the allegations that my 'false, defamatory', and indeed 'highly defamatory', statements gave rise to the imputations that your clients were partaking in corrupt conduct. However, and as you are equally aware, all claims as made by myself were, and remain, true and factual.

Now, and of course, it would be apparent to a person with talents less than your own, that if my statements are true, then the imputations that arise are true also. Despite documentation being provided to your firm evidencing the truth of all claims, your firm saw fit to write to me on three further occasions threatening me with Court action, and did so deliberately to cause fear and in attempts to cover up your clients' conduct as well as other acts of wrongdoing.

However, and on 12th July 2022, you had the temerity to write to me further, and somewhat ironically, complaining that I had entered into a 'campaign of harassment' against your firm and your clients. Your disingenuous conduct and that of your firm can only be described as amoral and only serves to destroy trust in an already eroded legal profession.

For reference, I attach a copy of Baker McKenzie's letter of 2nd December 2021 and a copy of my aforementioned letter to you of 19th July 2022.

Yours faithfully

Symn Waters
